This page shows the 40 timber buildings over five stories in Australia's December 2019 MID-rise and Tall Timber Structures report by TimberTrader News. The report details timber buildings with a focus on mid-rise and tall structures, highlighting advancements in timber construction and its growing popularity in the building industry. The page features images of various timber buildings, including apartments, offices, and residential structures, showcasing the diversity of timber use in modern architecture. The text provides information on the construction methods, materials, and benefits of timber buildings, emphasizing their sustainability and cost-effectiveness. The page also includes a map of the timber buildings, allowing readers to see the geographic spread of these projects across the country.